

Accommodations and Activities

At Knoxville Plantation we offer our guests a quaint cabin with a dining area and a full kitchen for preparing a quick snack or a delicious Southern-style meal, using fresh local ingredients, and a country front porch for swapping stories when the day is through.

Skeet shooting is now available year-round at Knoxville Plantation. Hunters may purchase skeet shooting as an add-on to their package. Skeet Club memberships are available for $25 per family, per year, with a small additional charge per visit (no hunting package required).

The 10-acre lake offers additional pleasures and relaxation at Knoxville Plantation. It's stocked with an interesting variety of fish for the angler and the shallow end contains an inviting duck habitat.

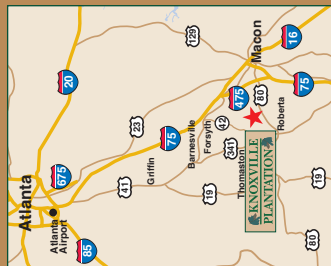

We have also added 200 additional acres, Knoxville Plantation West, a short ride from the main plantation on Highway 80. This site includes three fishing lakes, dove fields and an excellent campground. It is being groomed and prepared for the 2008 season.

A Development of
The Scofield Companies

In all the outdoors, there are few more exciting sights than a covey of quail on the rise. Bird dogs rushing eagerly back and forth across the fields in the crisp morning air . . . pristine woods with leaves undisturbed by footsteps . . . sportsmen sharing stories at the end of the day. All these experiences have made hunting one of the South's most enjoyable — and time-honored — activities.

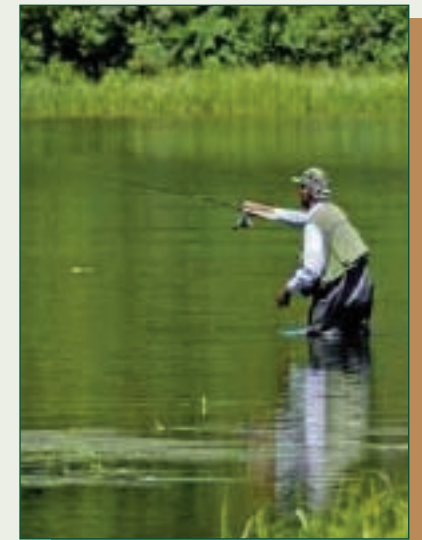

At Knoxville Plantation, you can take your pick of outdoor pleasures. Bag plump quail, stalk wily wild turkeys and trophy deer, reel in a big bass or sharpen your skills at our skeet shooting range. To enhance your experience, you can choose to use one of our mule-drawn wagons to transport you in the traditional manner across the woods and fields. Our quail packages include the use of professional guides with eager, well-trained dogs; experienced sportsmen can skip the guides and bring their favorite hunting dogs along.

Whether you prefer thin or thick cover, or relish the excitement of field edges, you'll find Knoxville Plantation has been carefully groomed to attract an abundance of wildlife and make the most of your visit. A limit on the number of hunters per day ensures your trip will be both memorable and rewarding.

At day's end, the relaxing atmosphere at Knoxville Plantation in the company of your friends and companions will make the day complete. Optional delicious Southern meals and overnight accommodations can turn a day hunt into a memorable vacation. (Meals are included with Annual Memberships.)
